Hostel life was fantastic, sports and mess were great. Academics lacked - lectures were unengaging, practical experience was insufficient, and marking system needs improvement.

Suggestions:

- More interactive lectures
- More practical experience
- Review marking system

FEEDBACK OF MY COLLEGE LIFE

Coming from a pure agricultural family, I always carried the soil of my fields in my heart. I understood farming, crops, and seasons - but my engineering mind pushed me toward the science stream (A-group), dreaming of blending agriculture with technology. In 2017, destiny did not open doors immediately; I couldn't secure a seat in the first rounds. But life's best gifts come with timing - and in the third round, August 2017, I got my chance to enter the College of Agricultural Engineering & Technology, Godhra.

That day - 25th August 2017 - my new chapter officially began. My journey started at Aaruni Boys Hostel, where life unfolded in a completely new way. The student cooperative mess, the friendly Maharaj who served us healthy and tasty food, and the hostel atmosphere gave me my first real taste of independence. Within days, I learned that CAET was more than a college - it was a family. Professors, staff, and the entire CAET culture slowly shaped our understanding of discipline, traditions, rules, and the unique style of enjoying life here.

When I entered the campus, I felt more greenery was needed. But when we completed our degree, I proudly witnessed how our efforts - tree plantations and care - made the college lush, green, and welcoming for the juniors who came after us.

And yes, seniors - a very special chapter. To be honest, my seniors taught me more life lessons than any textbook. They shaped my communication skills, guided my discipline, introduced me to sports, and taught me how to survive, grow, and shine in college life. The bond we shared with seniors in an off-campus college like Godhra is something truly unforgettable. Being away from the main campus gave us independence, responsibility, and deep, lifelong connections.

Academically, CAET never gave me fear. Group studies, the support of seniors, and the guidance of professors made marks, backs, and exams manageable. Together, we studied, stressed, laughed, and conquered. My journey was filled with events that became memories - Sports Fest, Inter-collegiate tournaments, Annual Functions, Fresher's events, Ganesh Mahotsav, Navratri, Holi...These celebrations were not just programs; they were moments that added colour and joy to our CAET family life.

But the story took an unexpected turn. In 2021, the world faced the COVID pandemic, and so did we. Out of our 4-year programme, almost 1.5 years vanished into online classes and staying at home. My CAET glass of enjoyment could never fill completely - some memories remained empty, some celebrations incomplete. Yet, even that taught us resilience, adaptability, and the value of togetherness.

Today, when I look back, I realise that 2.5 years on campus were not enough to describe CAET Godhra. This journey is far deeper than any paragraph can capture. These years shaped me - not only as an agricultural engineer but also as a human being.

In the end, I only have gratitude in my heart - Thank you to all the faculties, seniors, friends, and every member of the CAET family for giving me this culture, this discipline, this love, and this unforgettable experience.

CAET GODHRA will always remain my home.

Thank you,
Yours Faithfully Student,
DHRUVKUMAR J. FALDU

Thank You CAET

Had a wonderful journey at CAET, Godhra, Anand Agricultural University from 2020 to 2024. Overall, my experience at the college was very positive, apart from a few incidents. Most faculty members were kind, supportive, and guided us throughout our academic activities. The college also provided me with many opportunities to grow and explore my skills.

The various college events were valuable learning experiences. The campus is equipped with all essential facilities—well-maintained laboratories, field demonstration units, and instructional resources—which help students gain practical knowledge.

Our seniors were very supportive as well, and I truly enjoyed my time staying in the hostel.

Thank you

My experience at CAET, Godhra has been a blend of valuable learning, personal growth, and memorable moments. The college environment encourages academic development, and many of the faculty members are supportive and approachable. Their guidance has helped me build a strong understanding of my field and pushed me to think practically as well as creatively.

The campus atmosphere is generally positive, with opportunities to participate in technical activities, events, and group projects. These experiences have improved my teamwork, communication skills, and confidence.

Life in the hostel has been an important part of my journey too. Staying with friends and peers has taught me discipline, time management, and independence. The hostel environment often feels like a second home, creating bonds and friendships that I will always value. While there are a few areas that can be improved—such as better maintenance, more consistent facilities, and improved food quality—the overall experience has contributed significantly to my personal growth.

In summary, my time at CAET, Godhra has been meaningful and has shaped me both academically and personally. I am grateful for the lessons, friendships, and experiences I've gained here.

As a proud student of the very first batch (2008-2012), my journey at CAET Godhra is something I deeply cherish. In the beginning, when the college was still taking shape, our professors stood with us like family. They faced the same challenges we did—limited infrastructure, developing facilities, and many uncertainties—but their dedication ensured that our academic journey was never compromised.

These four years were a truly unforgettable chapter of my life—a time that holds a permanent place in my heart and taught me many valuable life lessons. During this journey, our batchmates became more than friends; we formed an emotional bond that still feels unbreakable.

Being lovingly called the 'Golden Batch' by all faculties is not just an honor—it is an emotion that stays with us forever. I am truly proud to be part of the very first chapter in the story of CAET Godhra.

Dr. Kripanarayan Shukla
Assistant Professor (FMPE),
Dept. of Agril. Engg., N. M. College of Agriculture,
Navsari Agricultural University, Navsari (Gujarat)

My doctoral journey at the College of Agricultural Engineering & Technology (CAET), Godhra, successfully culminated in 2023 and I can attest to the college's significant strengths, particularly in its research ecosystem. The College Faculty provided exceptional mentorship. Their depth of specialized domain knowledge and commitment to doctoral guidance were instrumental to my research output. The relationships fostered were highly collaborative, encouraging academic autonomy while ensuring rigorous standards were maintained.

The College Culture is one of growing academic rigor, fostering essential interdisciplinary dialogue. This environment, focused on practical, high-impact agricultural engineering solutions, is highly commendable. Furthermore, the Support Staff demonstrated strong administrative agility, particularly in navigating complex documentation related to grants and thesis submission, which is critical for smooth research continuity. The hostel environment, while functional, provided the necessary stability required for intense, long-term residency.

My primary suggestion for improvement is to focus strategic investment on establishing a centralized, state-of-the-art core analytical facility. This resource would consolidate advanced testing equipment, drastically reducing reliance on external institutions and accelerating the pace and sophistication of future academic research projects.

I am pleased to share my feedback as an alumnus of the Department of Soil and Water Engineering, College of Agricultural Engineering and Technology, Godhra (AAU, Gujarat). My academic journey here has played a significant role in shaping my professional career and technical understanding.

The department provided a strong foundation in areas such as soil conservation, irrigation engineering, watershed management, remote sensing, and hydrology. The curriculum was well structured and industry-oriented, combining theoretical knowledge with practical applications through laboratories, field visits, and project work.

I sincerely appreciate the dedication of the faculty members, whose guidance, mentorship, and encouragement helped me develop analytical skills and confidence. Their emphasis on practical problem-solving and research-based learning has proved valuable in my career.

The department also offered a supportive learning environment, access to updated resources, and opportunities to participate in training programs, seminars, and hands-on field activities, which enriched my overall experience.

I am proud to be associated with CAET, Godhra, and the Department of Soil and Water Engineering. I am confident that the department will continue to provide quality education and produce skilled professionals who contribute to the agricultural and water resource management sectors.

Best wishes to the faculty, staff, and current students for continued growth and success.

Every Corner of The College Campus Holds a Story We'll Never Forget

My journey: From Anxious Student to Academic Colleague to Assistant Professor

My relationship with this institution spans over ten and a half years, a profound period starting from my Bachelor's degree in 2012 right through to my PhD completion in 2023. It is with immense pleasure, and a deep sense of a cycle completed, that I can now say: once I was a student, and today, I am privileged to serve as an Assistant Professor in the very same college. I walk the halls now alongside my seniors, colleagues, and juniors, sharing a campus rich with the unforgettable fun and memories that define college life. As the saying goes, the roots of education are bitter, but the fruit is sweet. The journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step, and that first step was a trial by fire.

The beginning was not easy. Coming from a regional-language background, stepping directly into an English-medium program was overwhelming. Subjects like English, Environmental Science, Chemistry, and Physics felt like mountains. But with the guidance of supportive seniors, the fear slowly faded, and by the end of the first year, I found confidence and a clear purpose in my chosen field of Agricultural Engineering

My hobby: Cultivating a Greener Campus

Beyond academics, my heart was deeply attached to the environment. When I first entered the campus, it lacked greenery, and I silently wished to see it flourish. This vision came alive under the dynamic leadership of Principal & Dean Dr. R. Subbaiah, whose efforts transformed the campus into a lush, vibrant space by the time I completed my M. Tech (2018), and Ph.D. (2023). For this transformation, I extend my greatest thanks to Principal and Dean Dr. R. Subbaiah, whose guidance ensured that the campus bloom with cherries, joyful, and greenery.

Our unity: Unity makes unite

My journey as a student spanned an impactful 10.5 years, marking a profound transition within these college walls. When we first took admission into the Bachelor's program, we were, completely unknown to one another. Yet, upon graduation, I realized the absolute truth that we came for degrees, but left with memories for a lifetime. We embraced the philosophy that A rising tide lifts all boats. Driven by a commitment to collective success, I diligently prepared and shared my academic notes with everyone, ensuring that nobody can be left behind from our batch. This teamwork bore sweet fruit, as we all successfully passed together—a testament to unity and shared purpose. Beyond the classroom, we truly became a community. Guided by the SRC Chairmen and the NSS Programme Officer, we spent countless hours together, celebrating every milestone and occasion: from the excitement of the Fresher's Party and the grandeur of the Annual Day to the vibrant spirit of Navratri, the respect shown on Teacher's Day, the patriotism of August 15th and January 26th, the community focus of NSS, the camaraderie of Sports, and the bittersweet finality of the Farewell Party. These shared experiences confirm the enduring truth: College isn't just about textbooks and exams; it's about the friendships, the late-night talks, and the memories that last a lifetime.

My adventure: Collect moments, not things

My roommate, Er. Uttam Ladani, and I will never forget the moment we drive the tractor ourselves to irrigate the wilting campus trees — one of the most memorable adventure tasks during our bachelor days.

My leadership roles: A student leader learns today, leads tomorrow

Throughout my entire academic tenure, from my Bachelor's through my Ph.D., I actively served in various leadership roles, including Class Representative (C.R.), Mess Secretary (M.S.), General Secretary (G.S.), Alumni Executive Council Member (E.C.), Board of Study (BoS) member etc. I am deeply grateful to the institute for entrusting me with these responsibilities, as the experience gained directly contributed to my current appointment as an Assistant Professor in the same college. The journey has truly come full circle: where I was once taught (student), I now teach (Assistant Professor). My success today is a direct reflection of the support and guidance received from my CAET juniors, seniors, and all respected faculty and staff members. Although I cannot mention every name, I am sincerely grateful to all the faculty members who played a crucial role in shaping my academic and professional journey.
